Monday, October 15, 5:00-6:30pm
Trienens Forum (Kresge 1-515)

A panel of scholars, educators, and activists will discuss the multiple, contested meanings of the keyword “consent” from the vantages of the history of intimate violence in American slavery, political theory, contemporary jurisprudence, feminism, queer studies, and Title IX at Northwestern and beyond.

Panelists: Carrie Wachter (CARE), Mary Dietz (Gender & Sexuality Studies/ Political Science), Leslie M. Harris (History), Scott De Orio (Gender & Sexuality Studies/ History), and Serene Singh (SHAPE). Moderator: Helen Thompson (English).

A small reception to follow.

Stay Tuned for Future Keywords:
REPRODUCTION (Winter) and PLEASURE (Spring)

This Keyword Series is organized in collaboration with One Book One Northwestern, whose featured book in 2018-19 is Margaret Atwood’s The Handmaid’s Tale.

For more information, contact Eliot at gender@northwestern.edu